

On the following week, 23 – 24 March the Conference on Oncology Treatment Diagnostics in Poznań – vital topics of 2017

The thematic area of meetings will not limit to modern methods of study or diagnostics but will also comprise issues related to psychological help for people in the oncological treatment. The knowledge gathered from the questions brought up during the conference is significant in relations with patients with tumour diagnosis.

In the course of the meeting the following issues will be comprehensively presented:

- modern oncological diagnostics in tumour treatment – panel for laboratory diagnostician and physicians,
- radiographer diagnostics and application of modern solutions in prophylaxis and oncological treatment – panel family physicians, pulmonologists, internists, oncologists, technicians, radiologists,
- pathomorphological diagnostics – panel for pulmonology histopathologists, pulmonologists, pulmonology oncologists,
- psycho-oncology and communication – panel for physicians, nurses, psychologists, staff responsible for patients attendance.

The conference conducted within the project “Wielkopolska Oncology: Improvement and adjustment of tumour therapy diagnostics to demographic and epidemiological trends of the region providing optimization of proceeding and prophylaxis” co-financed from the EEC Financial Mechanism 2009-2014 and Norwegian Financial Mechanism 2009-2014 within the program PL07 “Development and better adaptation of health care to demographic and epidemiological trends”

The participation in the Conference is free and we encourage to take part in the event!

More information on the Beneficiary’s website:
<http://wielkopolskaonkologia.pl/szkolenia/konferencje/>